ST. JUDE'S RANCH FOR CHILDREN OPENS TRANSITIONAL LIVING PROGRAM IN SAN ANTONIO

Organization's First Home In Alamo City

WHAT: St. Jude's Ranch for Children is very excited to announce the opening of our Transitional Living Program Home in San Antonio. This achievement has been a long-time goal of St. Jude's Ranch, and due to the generous $100,000 grant we received from Impact San Antonio in November 2008 we are finally able to make it a reality.

St. Jude's Ranch for Children is celebrating the opening of our Transitional Living Program's first home in San Antonio with a reception and open house on Friday, April 3. This event represents a new benchmark in the care we can provide to children across Texas, and is the first campus for St. Jude's Ranch in San Antonio.

The event will feature appetizers, non-alcoholic beverages, house tours, St. Jude's Ranch CEO Christine Spadafor and staff, members of Impact San Antonio, community leaders and special guests, and the opportunity to meet the kids currently in the Transitional Living Program. 2009 Rey Feo's Prime Minister and the Rey Feo Court will also make an appearance.

St. Jude's Ranch for Children's Transitional Living Program provides therapeutic residential care for up to 12 young adults ages 16 to 21. It offers our older children the opportunity to become productive self sufficient adults by teaching them how to run their own household and become fully responsible citizens in the community.
